

Love so Pure, It Must be Heaven-Sent...

God loves us unconditionally.

Even when we forget to talk to Him,
even when we drift away,
even when we're just a hot mess—
God waits.

He waits for us to come back.

And when we do,
He wraps us in His arms,
wipes away our tears,
and reminds us how deeply we're loved.

We see that same kind of love in our dogs.

They wait for us too...

No matter how long we've been gone,
they greet us with joy,
lick the tears right off our faces,
and love us like we hung the moon.

Simple fact, God uses animals
to show us what unconditional love looks like.

Maybe that's why we love them so much— and why
we want the best for them.

They love so big, so pure, so hard...

that their beautiful hearts just have to go home early to Jesus to be rewarded for loving us so well.

"While I'm here, I'll remind you every day
how much I love you. When I'm gone, don't forget I'm still with you, and will see you again."
